PART A: PARTY ADVERTISEMENTS SOLELY PROMOTING THE PARTY

A party's election expenses during the regulated period (14 July to 13 October) must not exceed their expense limit. It is an offence to spend more than the limit.

A party contesting the party vote can spend up to $1,388,000 (including GST) and $32,600 (including GST) for each electorate candidate the party stands at the election.

Party election expenses are the costs of advertising in any medium that:

- may reasonably be regarded as encouraging or persuading voters to vote, or not to vote, for a party (whether or not the name of the party is stated), and
- are published, or continue to be published, during the regulated period for the general election, and
- are promoted by the party or with the party's authority.

Election expenses include:

- the costs incurred in the preparation, design, composition, printing, postage and publication of the advertisement, and
- the reasonable market value of any material used or applied towards the advertisement provided to the party for free or below reasonable market value.

Instructions on how to Complete Part A:

In this part you should record all election expenses (including GST) incurred in relation to party advertisements published, or that continued to be published, during the regulated period for the general election (14 July to 13 October 2023) solely promoting the party.

For advertisements published both before and during the regulated period you should apportion the costs so that only a fair proportion of the expenses are attributed to being incurred during the regulated period. Only record the amount attributable to the regulated period in the return.

Disclose the total amount (including GST) incurred on election advertisements published during the regulated period even if payment for the advertising was made outside of the regulated period.

PART B: PARTY ADVERTISEMENTS SHARED WITH CANDIDATES OR OTHER PARTIES

In this part you should record all election expenses incurred in relation to election advertisements published, or that continued to be published, during the regulated period for the general election (14 July to 13 October 2023) promoting the party and one or more candidates or parties.

Apportionment is permitted between the party and a candidate(s) or other party(ies). Where an expense item has been apportioned between the party and candidate(s) or party(ies), record the total cost of the advertisement and the share apportioned to the party based on coverage. You should ensure there is a consistent description and approach to apportionment in each return of election expenses. Record the name of the candidate(s) or other party(ies) featured in the advertising in the item description.

For advertisements published both before and during the regulated period you should apportion the costs so that only a fair proportion of the expenses are attributed to being incurred during the regulated period. Only record the amount attributable to the regulated period in the return.

Disclose the total amount incurred on election advertisements published during the regulated period even if payment for the advertising was made outside of the regulated period.

Election expenses include:

- the costs incurred in the preparation, design, composition, printing, postage and publication of the advertisement, and
- the reasonable market value of any material used or applied towards the advertisement provided to the party for free or below reasonable market value.

PART C: AUTHORISED PARTY ADVERTISEMENTS PROMOTED BY A THIRD PARTY PROMOTER

In this part you should record all election expenses incurred in relation to party advertisements promoted by a third party promoter with your written authorisation and published, or that continued to be published, during the regulated period for the general election (14 July to 13 October 2023).

Expenses cannot be apportioned with third party promoters. If you authorised someone else to publish advertising encouraging people to vote for the party, the cost of the advertising will be a party election expense and the same costs will also be an election expense of the third party. Record the name of the third party promoter in the item description.

For advertisements published both before and during the regulated period you should apportion the costs so that only a fair proportion of the expenses are attributed to being incurred during the regulated period. Only record the amount attributable to the regulated period in the return.

Disclose the total amount incurred on election advertisements published during the regulated period even if payment for the advertising was made outside of the regulated period.

Election expenses include:

- the costs incurred in the preparation, design, composition, printing, postage and publication of the advertisement, and
- the reasonable market value of any material used or applied towards the advertisement provided to the party for free or below reasonable market value.

PART F: CANDIDATE ONLY BROADCASTING ALLOCATION EXPENSES

In Part F record the party's broadcasting allocation used to produce or place a candidate election advertisement on TV, radio or the internet.

PROVIDE the following information below:

- Supplier's name and address: This should be the media buyer or broadcaster on the invoice provided to the Electoral Commission for payment of the account
- Invoice date or dates
- Description of allocation of expenses: List the total production costs, TV placement, radio placement and internet placement costs for each supplier separately

- Candidate name
- Value $0.00 inc GST

Advertising paid for using the broadcasting allocation is excluded from the definition of party election expense. However, it is not excluded from the definition of candidate expense. If you use the allocation to produce a candidate election advertisement on TV, radio or online, the costs should also be disclosed in the candidate's return as an election expense and a donation from the party.

Reasonable Assurance Report on The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party's compliance with the sections 206I and 206L of the Electoral Act 1993 as evaluated against the Party's Election Expenses Return

Council Members of the New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party

Opinion

We have undertaken a reasonable assurance engagement on The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party's (the "Party") compliance, in all material respects, with the sections 206I and 206L of the Electoral Act 1993 ("the Act") as evaluated against the Party's Election Expenses Return ("the Return"), for the three-month period ended 13 October 2023.

In our opinion:

- The party's total election expenses as disclosed within the Return for the period ended 13 October 2023 did not exceed the maximum amount prescribed by section 206C of the Act.
- Proper accounting records of the Party's election expenses appear to have been kept by the Party Secretary; and
- We have received all information requested from the Party Secretary in order for us to carry out our duties.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our engagement in accordance with Standard on Assurance Engagements (SAE) 3100 (Revised) Compliance Engagements issued by the New Zealand Auditing and Assurance Standards Board.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party's Responsibilities

The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party is responsible for:

- a. The compliance activity undertaken to meet the Act.
- b. Identification of risks that threaten the Act identified above being met and controls which will mitigate those risks and monitor ongoing compliance.

Our Independence and Quality Management

We have complied with the independence and other ethical requirements of Professional and Ethical Standard 1 International Code of Ethics for Assurance Practitioners (including International Independence Standards) (New Zealand) issued by the New Zealand Auditing and Assurance Standards Board, which is founded on fundamental principles of integrity, objectivity, professional competence and due care, confidentiality and professional behaviour.

The firm applies Professional and Ethical Standard 3 Quality Management for Firms that Perform Audits or Reviews of Financial Statements, or Other Assurance or Related Services Engagements, which requires the firm to design, implement and operate a system of quality management including policies or procedures regarding compliance with ethical requirements, professional standards and applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Assurance Practitioner's Responsibilities

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party's compliance, in all material respects, with the Act as evaluated against the Return, for the three-month period ended 13 October 2023. SAE 3100 (Revised) requires that we plan and perform our procedures to obtain reasonable assurance about whether The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party has complied in all material respects, with the Act as evaluated against the Return, for the three-month period ended 13 October 2023.

An assurance engagement to report on The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party's compliance with the Act involves performing procedures to obtain evidence about the compliance activity and controls implemented to meet the Return. The procedures selected depend on our judgement, including the identification and assessment of risks of material non-compliance with the Act as evaluated against the Return.

Other than in our capacity as auditors, independent assurance practitioners and the provision of accounting advice, we have no relationship with, or interests in, The New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party.

Inherent Limitations

Because of the inherent limitations of an assurance engagement, together with the internal control structure it is possible that fraud, error, or non-compliance with compliance requirements may occur and not be detected.

Restricted Use

This report is made solely to the Council Members for the purpose of establishing that the election expenses claimed by the Party in the return have been appropriately determined for the purpose intended. Our compliance work has been undertaken so we can state to Council Members those matters undertaken and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Council Members for our compliance work, or for any other purpose other than that for which it was prepared.

Dear Partners

Letter of Representation for Party Election Expenses Return for the 2023 General Election

This representation letter is provided in connection with your assurance engagement on New Zealand Council of the New Zealand Labour Party's (the "Party") compliance with Sections 206I and 206L of the Electoral Act 1993 ("the Act") as evaluated against the Party's Election Expenses Return ("the Return") for three month period ended 13 October 2023 with the purpose of expressing an opinion as to whether the Party has complied, in all material respects, with the requirements of the Act as it relates to the return.

We confirm to the best of our knowledge and belief and having made appropriate enquiries of other officials of the Party, the following representations:

- The return has been prepared in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Act.
- We are responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal control designed to provide reasonable assurance as to the integrity and reliability of the return, we have done this, and all explanations or demonstrations of this to you have been complete and accurate.
- All records, documents and accounts have been kept by the Party and made available to you, and these materials will be retained in accordance with the requirements of the Act.
- We have disclosed to you:
 - any material transactions not disclosed in the records;
 - the existence of all relevant agreements or activities relating to the Party's members of the previous Parliament, electorate candidates, subsidiary or closely connected political entities, third party promoters whether registered or not, and other political parties whether registered or not or their electorate candidates;
 - any alleged, suspected or proven illegal activity under the Act or other legislation potentially relevant to the return;
 - any outstanding disputed claims, matters with authorities, or planned or continuing litigation; and
 - the fact of, and results from, any assessment made by us that considered whether the records of the Party may be materially misstated or incomplete for any reason.

- The return contains the total returnable election expenses of the party for the 2023 general election whether paid or incurred before, during, or after the regulated period. The return includes all expenses, including apportioned expenses, and irrespective of the source of funds or entity paying for the activities concerned, and irrespective of whether or not a party advertisement contained a promoter statement.
- We have sought, received, and hold in the Party's records assurances from, or on behalf of, any Party members of the previous Parliament that all party advertisements published, or election expenses incurred by those members of Parliament have been disclosed to us, with adequate supporting records, for inclusion in this return.
- Where an apportionment of election expenses is given in the return:
 - the basis of apportionment is appropriate, and has been properly applied and recorded, and
 - the information contained in the Party's return is known to be consistent with that of the Party's electorate candidates, or the undertakings of other entities involved in the apportionment included in the records.
- We have completed our own procedures, distinct from your processes, to evaluate the accuracy and completeness of the return. We are satisfied based on our review procedures completed that the return is free of any material misstatements or omissions.
